Automatic on-line reservations & room availability management for Callista Hospitality

Wouldn't it be great if your on-line reservations and room availability could be managed completely automatically — even while you sleep? Callista CIRIS¹ with Callista Hospitality will let you do just that.

All you have to do is upload all your rooms via CIRIS to the internet via one portal just once and they're instantly available for sale via multiple internet booking providers² and even from your own website. And it's completely automatic.

You won't have to get involved in any heavy guesswork about how many rooms you have to ring fence for on-line allocation which you then can't sell and which may end up not being sold on the internet either. With CIRIS, all your rooms are available for anyone to sell all the time right around the clock not only on-line but in Callista Hospitality as well.

When rooms are sold, CIRIS automatically downloads reservations directly into Callista Hospitality without you having to lift a finger. What's more all the changes in your room availability are simultaneously and automatically uploaded to the internet and all the on-line booking providers you subscribe to will be automatically notified. You won't have to do a thing. No user intervention. No double booking. Callista Hospitality and Callista CIRIS together take care of it all for you — automatically — providing you with limitless opportunities all the time to sell your rooms — even while you sleep.
